RE: Telephone Conversation with Paul Janszen

On April 12, 1989, John Dowd and I had a telephone conversation with Paul Janszen. During the conversation we asked Janszen if he had ever eaten with Pete Rose in a restaurant in Philadelphia. Janszen said he had. We asked what type of restaurant it was and he said it was a Chinese restaurant.

We asked Janszen if he recalled checking on bets while he was at the restaurant. Janszen said he recalled Rose asking "how are we doing" on the bets that day. Janszen recalled that when Rose asked him this, Janszen left the table and called the sports line.
